

WEDDING MUSIC SUGGESTIONS & Preparation Form

The selections listed are accessible to all professional parish liturgical musicians. This is not a comprehensive list! The parish music director will be able to assist in determining whether or not a piece not on this list is acceptable. Also consult your parish hymnal, as it, too, has many songs that would be appropriate for your wedding celebration.

Responsorial Psalm

It is most appropriate that the responsorial psalm be sung. The following pieces, as well as most responsorial settings of the psalms listed on page seven, would be appropriate. The Psalm follows the first (Old Testament) reading, and is led by the cantor. The cantor intones the refrain, the assembly repeats it, and the cantor sings the verses. It is important that the text be a psalm; a solo or other sacred song may not be used.

Psalm 33	The Earth Is Full of the Goodness	J. Robert Carroll
Psalm 33	The Earth Is Full of the Goodness	Marty Haugen
Psalm 34	Taste and See the Goodness of the Lord	Marty Haugen
Psalm 34	Taste and See the Goodness of the Lord	Michel Guimont
